Atlanta Printmakers Studio, the Southeast’s premier nonprofit, open-access fine art printmaking studio, announces its first COLLECTOR’S PRINT, featuring an intaglio print by Ruth Laxson.

RUTH LAXSON, one of Atlanta’s most noted and loved artists with a national reputation for her artists books, is featured in many important collections. Ruth’s work appears in the permanent collections at the Museum of Modern Art, NYC, The Victoria & Albert Museum and the Tate Museum, London, Yale University Fine Art & Architecture Library, Getty Center Museum, CA, Sackner Collection, Miami, the School of the Art Institute of Chicago, the National Museum of Women in the Arts, the High Museum, Atlanta, and the Museum of Contemporary Art of Georgia. Ruth is represented by Marcia Wood Gallery in Atlanta.

Communication is a major theme of Laxson’s work. She uses language as a working material. Automatic writing and pattern poetry are the hallmarks of Laxson’s artistic style as she merges text and image into text as image. We are excited to present this opportunity for you to collect one of these hand-pulled prints, printed on Ruth’s former etching press in our studio. The prints will be unveiled at our annual Open House in December. Order yours today before they sell out!
